CHOICES AND TRANSITIONS

The Number Codes for March

March 2015 is a month of duality. We can experience it at its Eleven master number level or at the level of Two, the sum of the two One's in Eleven. Either way, we are likely to be engaged in the process of making choices that involve our partnerships and commitments.

March (the calendar month) is the Third Month of 2015. Three encourages us to be expressive, socialize and to enjoy the pleasures of life.

March's (the word's) Soul Number is One which prompts us to take a stand, act independently and/or initiate something new.

March's (the word's) Letter Sum is Seven, the number of spirituality and accessing information from the world of the unseen.

How March adds up:

Whenever we transit an Eleven month, be it a personal one or, as is the case this month, at the Universal level, we stand at a gateway of master tests and transformation. To go forward into the future, we must relinquish our past. Sometimes this is easy. Other times there can be experiences of disappointment and loss. Because Eleven reduces to the Number Two, indications are that there will be tests regarding relationships, partnerships, legal matters, and contracts and agreements.

Two is a number of peace and demands that we cooperate with others. It can also be a number of the "victim" if we give away our power. So this month allows us a good opportunity to master the art of compromise in a way that allows all parties to experience gain and good will.

Both the Number Eleven and its lower vibration of Two bring with it enhanced intuitive abilities and increased sensitivity to our surroundings as well as invisible cosmic energies. As we will all be more sensitive than usual this month, it pays us to use our intuition to be gentle, kind and understanding of others who may be experiencing and expressing their own traumas and anxieties in ways that are less than harmonious.

Finally, one of the most important aspects of this month's Eleven/Two number transits is that we encounter a major cosmic turning point right at the time of the Spring Equinox. Not only do we experience a New Moon Solar Eclipse and the start of a new astrological year when the sun enters Aries; we also have the last of seven Uranus/Pluto transits which can bring about life-changing transformation. Thus the portals we enter this month and especially at the Equinox can bring us to a new start, a new environment and a new lifestyle. With this being the case, it is vital that we adhere to the old adage "Be careful what you wish for."

A wonderful portal of opportunity lies in front of us that can be a turning point for the better in our lives. If you perceive that there are blocks and obstacles standing in the way of what you desire, there is no better time to take action, however small, to clear them away. In addition, there is an enhanced potential to be very lucky from a financial standpoint, especially in terms of attracting money windfalls.
