April (the calendar month) is the Fourth Month of 2014 which brings with it the energies of money, financial institutions, structure, organization.

April (the word's) Soul Number is Nine, the number of universal love and brotherhood.

April's (the word's) Letter Sum is Eleven, the same as our Universal Month Number above

HOW APRIL ADDS UP:

The good news: The Number Eleven always gives us opportunities for major transformation. If you are open to making positive changes in your life, the energies of April can assist you in breaking through old barriers and creating a life that is a better match for your values and aspirations.

The challenging news: If you follow astrology, you have likely encountered predictions that April's turbulent cosmic forces (a lunar eclipse, a solar eclipse and a rare Grand Cardinal Cross planetary formation) can bring massive upset to the structures of our world's governments, leaders and economic systems.

Your choice: Do you choose to be fearful – or do you choose to stay grounded in a vision that any changes that do come our way are ultimately constructive and healing to our world?

Remember, the Number Eleven gives us master tests, but also, master rewards. Eleven wants to bring us balance and harmony. The words: "healing", "light" and "wisdom" all add up to eleven. I personally opt to keep the vision of healing in front of me no matter what transpires this month.

On the collective front all the wheels are in motion. All we can do is to keep the vision of peaceful resolution of any conflicts or upsets that occur.

So yes, there may be major shakeups this month both globally and personally, but see yourself as not only being resilient, but also being offered ways to ultimately transform your life into a more rewarding and love-filled existence, particularly regarding the relationships (personal and professional) in your life. Eleven strives to bring balance to our inner and external male-female polarities.

THE BOTTOM LINE THIS MONTH:

Those of you reading this who have the Number Eleven strong in your chart and/or are especially sensitive to cosmic energy shifts will need to find ways to stay grounded and centered beyond your usual protocols this month. (Actually, I hunch that all of you fall into this category as I do as well!)

Your psychic and intuitive abilities will be greatly enhanced, so pay extra attention to the extrasensory guidance you receive and honor it respectfully as it helps you know the truth about situations and people.

If you begin feeling overwhelmed or out of control, remove yourself to the most calming environment you can find – a nature setting, a place where you can listen to tranquil music, placing yourself among positive and uplifting companions, doing yoga, deep breathing, inhaling essential oils, and – seeking guidance from your source of spiritual nourishment, for example. Ask your angels to steer you toward gentle relationships, media choices, home life and work situations.

Something else that is very important....Seek to focus on the positive side of everything. When something good happens, make a note of it and look for more. In addition to treating everyone around you with kindness, be sure to be especially kind to yourself and honor the yearnings of your heart.

Remember, this month can bring all of us ultimately to a better place of contentment. Keep the vision and trust that ALL IS WELL!
