

NANCY'S MONTHLY FORECAST

2014 is ruled by the vibration of the Universal Number Seven. This year is a very fertile time for us to learn to create our desired realities by both mastering our thoughts and transcending our thoughts to access the realms of the unseen through our extrasensory abilities.

N-SIGHTS FOR JULY 2014

BREAKING FREE

The Number Codes for July

July 2014 is a Five Universal Month. Five is all about Fertility, Birth, Freedom, Change, and The Unexpected.

Our Seven Universal Year focuses on Divine Revelations, Truth Revealed, Healing and Convalescence, Preparation for Change, the Power of Mind and Intuition

July (the calendar month) is the Seventh Month of 2014 which enhances and magnifies the year's Seven vibration. This can be a month of amazing spiritual revelations.

July's (the word's) Soul Number is Three, the number of Creative Expression, Heart Energy and the Inner Child

July's (the word's) Letter Sum is Five, the same number as our Universal Month number explained above.

How July adds up:

You may recall that last month's forecast focused on doing our individual and collective "spiritual housecleaning" to engage in processes to rid ourselves of the belief systems and habits that keep us stuck in self-defeating ego-based behaviors and the third dimensional world of lack, limitation and feelings of unworthiness.

To the extent that you/we were successful last month, July offers us the climate and opportunity to advance into a new paradigm of freedom and joy to be our authentic selves. Again, each one of us is on our own path so each experience is likely to be different, and some will make more progress than others. A Number Five Month in a Number Seven Year can be translated (using numerology parlance) into "NEW" (number five) "THOUGHT" (number seven.)

On a more mundane level, this month can be supportive to us for coming up with new ideas for life enrichment as well as for marketing products and services related to education, spirituality, metaphysics and the occult.

Five also relates to the nervous system so those of you who are susceptible to nervous anxiety are likely to be more vulnerable to this condition in July, particularly if you have a lot of Five energy in your natal numerology chart. (I include myself here as seven out of the twelve letters in my natal birth name have the Number Five vibration.) If you're in this category, place yourself in tranquil surroundings as much as possible and indulge in frequent bouts of deep breathing.

Five can also make us prone to unfocused energies (wanting to go in several directions at once!) and also to gambling and overindulgence in all the sensual pleasures of life – particularly if Five is a predominant number in your natal numerology chart. Forewarned is forearmed I say!

On a national and worldwide level, our Five month may offer us the news about new inventions – particularly those related to electronics and the internet. We may hear of events that are unexpected and out of the blue and possibly even shocking in their impact. In addition the odds are higher than usual for there to be an unexpected natural phenomenon related to the Earth itself such as a volcano or earthquake. (Pray that if the Earth demonstrates a need to create upheaval it is in an unpopulated area.)

Important Dates This Month

Tuesday, July 1, 2014      End, Mercury Retrograde Period

Friday, July 4, 2014      Independence Day (USA)

Saturday, July 12, 2014    Full Moon in Capricorn

Sunday, July 20, 2014    End, Saturn Retrograde Period

Monday, July 21, 2014    Uranus Goes Retrograde

Saturday, July 26, 2014    New Moon in Leo

The Bottom Line This Month –

It's a good month to initiate something new in your life – particularly if it's related to electronics or the internet.

It's a good month to take action to make desired life changes. Be open to some risk-taking as Five supports this as well – but watch out for jumping in over your head.

It's a good month to be flexible when things change at a moment's notice.

It's a good month to do what it takes to stay focused as Five can cause us to scatter our energy.

It's a good month to care for your nervous system if you are a sensitive individual. Stopping to take deep breathing breaks can be especially helpful.

It's a good month to avoid taking risks that can get you in hot water as well as avoiding disrespecting your body by careless overindulgence in food, drink and/or other substances to which we might become addicted.

On the most positive note – It's a good month to plan at least one action step that will take you in the direction of your dreams – even if it means stretching a bit beyond your comfort zone.

I'm called to share this inspiration for "breaking free" of old limitations by offering this visually innovative "Shatter Me" video by masterful violinist, composer and dancer, Lindsey Stirling. Click HERE to see her free herself from the imprisonment of an isolating snow globe.

May your month bring you transformation to new worlds of freedom and beauty where you can thrive as you connect more deeply with your authentic self.

NANCY

