Invoking the Infinite

2013 is a Six Universal Year - the number of love, nurturing and well-being

November (the calendar month) is the Eleventh Month of 2013. Eleven can bring dramatic events, tests and trials, but also peace and inspiration. Eleven reduces to the Number Two which relates to relationship harmony, intuition, patience, choices and life transitions.

November's (the word's) Soul Number is Sixteen, the number of sudden, unanticipated life changes coming from external sources.

November's (the word's) letter sum = 40/4, a master number relevant to structure, planning and organization and which demands a practical and prudent approach where money is concerned.

How November Adds Up:

Eight is a number which connects us with our strength and power. This month, especially, you may have some Divine revelations about your life path, your purpose and what you are truly capable of doing. The next step is to use the Eight energy to find the courage to act on what you now know to be the Truth of your being.

November can as well be a pivotal month, particularly regarding financial matters and contracts and agreements – more so if they relate to family, inheritance, and the settlement of lawsuits. The overriding Eight helps to insure that justice will prevail in the legal resolution of all disputes. Inasmuch as the numbers are in alignment with the transformative energies of Pluto-ruled Scorpio, some may find their lives plunged into what appears to be chaotic upset – only to discover, of course, that ultimately the mandated changes offer healing and opportunity to live on a more fulfilling level.

If you have the Numbers Six, Eight, Eleven and/or Two showing strongly in your natal numerology chart, the above possibilities are even more likely to be part of your experience this month.

Some Constructive Ways to Use This November's Eight-Dominant Energies:

Because Mercury is retrograde through November 10th with the shadow remaining throughout most of the rest of the month, this is not an appropriate time to initiate anything new if you can possibly avoid this. It is, however, a good time to return to projects already pending, make necessary adjustments and complete them where mandated. This is especially true for matters that were begun (and perhaps got stalled) during a former Mercury retrograde time period.

While it's absolutely a good time for contracts to be settled amicably, remember to review all the documents for errors and omissions. (This is always the best policy anyway!) If you're waiting for a legal settlement, think positively. Remember, Eight brings justice and if what you are seeking is indeed fair, then your desired outcome will manifest.

In addition, this is an ideal month to review what strengths and talents you may be hiding from others. Have you taken yourself and your accomplishments for granted? If you have a professional resume, is it doing you justice – or – are your real talents lost amid a lot of words that represent what you think you should say about yourself – or what someone else said you should say about yourself?

Do you have a "30-second commercial?" If so, how do you describe yourself? This can be a good time to partner with others to develop your confidence and perspective of your strengths and talents.
